

- List of Assumptions:
- A delivery service can only have one manager.
 - Money given to the van from the business will be given to the respective delivery service.
 - Debt is derived from the money spent by each business that the owner funds.
 - A van can be empty at some point in time (say, on its way back to base).
 - Business does not have to buy products and products can remain unsold to business.

